

Lara Bingle and Olympic swimmer Andrew Lauterstein found themselves feeling a little underdressed in a car park at Sydney's Bondi Junction while filming the latest campaign for Speedo's UnderBody underwear range. While a few lucky drivers caught the sexy duo in their undies – as the crew were kept busy calling 'caaaaar' and wheeling off their expensive lights in shopping trolleys – OK! went behind the scenes with Lara and Andrew and found that not only did they score free valet parking for the future, but free gear too! 'I wear them every day. I love them,' Lara says.

As an added bonus, Andrew found himself posing up a storm with sexy Lara, but admits he felt a little out of his depth. 'The stripping off part isn't too bad because I'm in bathers half of my life. But it's a whole different ball game when you're modelling with a professional. They change pose after each click of the camera. I'm just stationary,' Andrew jokes. 'I'm just standing there pouting. It's funny. I was trying my hardest. I was definitely flexing as hard as I could.'

Of course his mates were 'a little bit jealous' he got the chance to strip off with Lara, but the 22-year-old says it was all business. 'I think what Speedo did well is that they portrayed more of a friendship between Lara and me. I guess because of her high-profile relationship with Michael [Clarke] there's no point her and I being too affectionate, so it's more of a matey shoot. She's such a down-to-earth kind of girl that it's not a problem at all. I've also got a girlfriend and she and Lara got along really well.'

The 22-year-old model was certainly looking her best for the shoot, thanks to a recent detox and a consistently healthy lifestyle. 'I've recently found this place in Bondi called Eat Fit Food and they deliver healthy food to your house and it's all prepared. And I did a 10-day detox about three weeks ago and it was really, really good. But I drink a lot of water every day. I train most days. Do running, the gym! But Lara's mindful of keeping her curves. 'I don't think I could ever get too thin, I'm quite a good eater! You know I watch my weight of course, because it's my job [but] I enjoy being fit and healthy.'

Looking forward to some time off at Christmas, Lara says she will split her time between hanging out in Melbourne – while fiancé Michael plays cricket – and chilling out in Sydney. 'I'll be in Bondi lapping up the sun hopefully,' she says. 'Spend as much time as I can with my family and friends.'

'No-one was around, which was good,' Lara jokes of the night-time shoot in a Sydney car park

ONLY IN OK!

'We did the shoot in a car park to differentiate it from swimwear and the pool, but it was still meant to be something that represents the Speedo brand – it's comfy, it's easy,' the model says of the underwear shoot

The results certainly speak for themselves!
